WATERGAMES & MORE

Specialised in play on, around, with and in water!

Watergames & More constructs water attractions such as spray parks, water slides & more. From a single attraction, to total water play experiences, in which we combine all kinds of [themed] water attractions. Personal attention and service are of paramount importance to us. If you wish, we can relieve you of any worries throughout each stage of the process, from analysis and design to construction and maintenance, ultimately providing a turnkey delivery of your water attraction.

Founded by Paul van den Berg in 2008, our family business endeavours to enable as many people as possible to enjoy water in a carefree, safe and playful manner. Paul set out to develop water play concepts based on pedagogical, physical and social aspects. These intrinsic playing needs still form the basis for our designs. We then combine them with your wishes, a high quality, and attention to safety and sustainability, to assure you of a safe and purpose-built water attraction that will last for years. This enables you to increase the attraction value of your site, while also exercising greater influence on visitor numbers throughout the year.

OUR WAY OF WORKING

Quality & Expertise

We would be pleased to assist you in increasing the attraction value of your site. Regardless of whether it is a swimming pool, public space, recreational accommodation, amusement park or other recreational location, the carefully considered application of water play facilities enables you to distinguish yourself from your competitors, attract more visitors and extend the length of your guests' stay.

To us, quality and expertise are pivotal aspects in the creation of your water attraction[s]. Our application of high-quality products and deployment of skilled staff vouch for the success of any further expansion, replacement or new purchase of an attraction.

The process

Whether it comprises standard elements from our product range or particular design visions that are totally in keeping with the theme of your site, all designs start with an inventory of your wishes, possibly in consultation with an architect and/or consultancy firm. We would be pleased to advise you on matters including the capacity, target group, appearance and theming of a water attraction. After all, no two sites are ever the same, and realising a vision entails a great deal more than producing a floor plan featuring the elements. On the basis of all the information collected, our in-house designers create a unique design that meets your wishes and the safety requirements. We then execute your project as efficiently as possible. If you wish, we can relieve you of all the burden involved, by assuming responsibility for the turnkey delivery of your water attraction, including any construction and installation work. The designated project manager ensures that the work runs smoothly. Not only in the Netherlands, but also much further afield.

The products

Whatever your target group, Watergames & More offers you a broad range of products to really put your swimming pool, public space or leisure park on the map. From spray parks and water slides to inflatable play elements, water climbing walls, interactive fountains & more; we have a wide range of European certified products, which are made of high quality, sustainable materials. After all, the quality ultimately determines the appearance, the pleasure of use and the ease of maintenance of the water play equipment. You are therefore assured of a safe playing environment with a high attraction value.

Advantages

- ~ Tailored to your wishes, site and budget
- ~ Swift response, thanks to our in-house design
- ~ Turnkey delivery relieves you of any burden
- ~ Maintenance-friendly and sustainable products

SPRAY PARKS

Interactive water play

Our interactive spray parks offer endless fun. Equipping water playgrounds with combinations of water jets, sound, cause-effect relationships and elements that can rotate 360° enables one to render children's water play highly interactive.

The water from the jets is sprayed onto a level floor, which is laid on a gradient, and therefore drains away directly, thus providing an exceptionally safe playing environment for all ages. It is highly sustainable furthermore, as almost all the water is collected and reused.

Endless possibilities

The spray park equipment supplied by our partner Waterplay Solutions Corp. is modular and can therefore be readily combined. You can also cater to different target groups by creating separate zones. Furthermore, our water playgrounds are wheelchair accessible. Given the choice of hundreds of play elements, fountains, water arches and play islands [Activity Towers] available, the possibilities are basically endless. The equipment can be personalised by means of theming, the use of colour and unique graphics, so that it blends seamlessly with the surroundings. In addition to assisting you in selecting appropriate items, our experts create a unique design that meets all your requirements.

Attraction value

Splashing, moving water around and diverting flows: these are all pleasant and interesting discoveries. Children are naturally attracted to water. Spray parks are designed from the perspective of a child's play needs, and therefore encourage children to discover and develop their senses and competences in a playful manner. Interactive water play facilities offer greater diversity and more fun in recreational environments, and render urban environments more social and attractive. They tend to extend the time that visitors stay, and can therefore generate more food and beverage income. Given that much of the equipment is readily interchangeable, entrepreneurs like you can introduce seasonal innovations relatively easily, while also gaining greater control of visitor numbers throughout the seasons.

Tailor-made

As no two sites are ever quite the same, a tailored solution is basically always advisable. In order to create a suitable water attraction, we start with the dimensions of the site available, the desired appearance and the target group[s] that you want to appeal to. In consultation, we decide how we might best design your water slide, spray park or other [tailor-made] attraction.

The majority of water attractions can be personalised using colour, theming [of both the equipment and surroundings] and special effects [such as multimedia in a waterslide]. Spray park equipment can even be personalised by applying any graphics required, including company logos, coats of arms, house styles and patterns. Every attraction that we create is therefore unique.

Total concepts

Water attractions comprising product combinations, such as multiple water slides, spray parks & more in a themed setting, provide a unique experience for your visitors and increase the attraction value of your site. The concept may nevertheless comprise both standard equipment and tailor-made elements. To complete the picture, we develop custom decor items, such as a pirate ship, a mascot, or other elements that match your theme, corporate identity or surroundings. Of course, you can also count on our turnkey delivery service for the creation of a total concept. In that case, we take the project off your hands and hand over your water attraction ready for use.

While several standard courses have already been compiled, you naturally have the option of composing your own package of elements.

WaterClimbing adds adventure to your swimming pool. It basically consists of scaling climbing walls that tower up to nine metres above the surface. The climbing walls are accessible to everyone. All the walls comprise various climbing routes, which are marked out using colour coding. This allows both beginners and experts to use the same equipment. Even the inexperienced can climb safely, with no need for either an instructor or climbing equipment. Furthermore, a roof element is available for the true climbing enthusiasts, which features a challenging overhang. On reaching the summit, your visitors can simply plunge back into the water.

All WaterClimbing products are extensively tested and fully certified by TÜV [Technischer Überwachungsverein]. In addition, they comply with EN79001, the safety standard for climbing walls in swimming pools.
