discovery stream

The concept of the Discovery Stream builds on nature's creations. Children are enthralled by the world around them; gentle streams, playful fish, flowing water plants, these are just some of the things growing minds love to explore. Waterplay® Solution's new Discovery Stream is packed full of fascinating water weirs that challenge the mind, evoke thoughtful play and allow waterplayers of all ages to get involved. Featuring a smart, modular design, the Discovery Stream can adapt to almost any play pad environment, either as a standalone main attraction or as an addition to a larger aquatic design.

Call Waterplay today to learn more about this exciting new concept in aquatic play pad design!
